

Online Learning

Here we are with our 'new normal' once again of online learning for the next few weeks. We would like to take this opportunity to thank you all for your continued support and we adapt to and learn about online teaching.

We are aware that this period is challenging and frustrating for you, your families and our learners, please contact us at school in the usual ways if you would like to discuss any problem.

Gwersi ar-lein

As we adapt and learn daily to the ever changing guidance, rules, recommendations and technology available for us to use we understand that the methods for online learning are changing regularly for staff and learners alike. As such, we acknowledge that our strategies will have to evolve regularly and there may be modifications, we do this with the aim of providing a measured and sensible approach to the pedagogy of online learning.

The Welsh Assembly Government published new guidance in the first week of January that we have been using to plan a strategic and purposeful response within the context of Gwent Is Coed for online learning. We hope the video for parents on the school website will be to answer a number of your questions regarding online learning:

In terms of 'live' lessons or sessions over Google Meets it is important for all parents and learners to read and discuss the Google Meets agreement that is on the school website:

<http://www.gwentiscoed.cymru/cytundeb-google-meets-google-meets-contract.html>

All registration classes will have a live Google Meets session this week.

We hope that the new pages on the school website will be of assistance as pupils are working from home. On the website you will find instructional videos for parents and pupils: <http://www.gwentiscoed.cymru/sut-ydw-i-how-do-i.html>

Technology:

We hope that all learners now have access to technology and Wi-Fi that allows them to access and participate in online learning.

We understand that this continues to be a challenge in some situations and many families have children sharing equipment meaning their school day has to be adapted to accommodate each learner.

Please contact the school Wellbeing and Progress Lead for your child if there are any problems with technology we are unaware of.
